
Every weak password introduces risk into the company.

- 80% of breaches and 95% of fraud is related to compromised passwords.
- Password sharing and reuse creates a perimeter around compromised accounts, with employees losing an average of 113 times.
- $55 billion is lost due to password theft.

Passwordless authentication removes the password from the employee’s login experience – a more streamlined and secure way for users to log into all their work.

From manual password resets to locked accounts, passwords cause frustration and increased IT costs.

- 80% of breaches are the result of weak, reused or compromised passwords.1
- Password sharing and reuse remains a common practice in most businesses, with employees reusing one password an average of 13 times.2
- Employees at small businesses have an average of 85 passwords to manage.2
- 4 hours per week are spent on password management-related issues, including 96 password-related requests per month.4
- 34% experience lost or stolen password credentials monthly.2
- 4 hours per week are spent on password resets alone, including 96 password-related requests per month.4
- 36% of IT pros use implementing secure MFA as a priority.4
- 57% of global businesses have employees using MFA, up 12% from 2018.2
- 36% of IT pros see implementing biometric MFA as a priority.4
- 39% of IT pros see room for improvement in the general security behavior of their employees.4
- 39% of IT pros agree that strengthening user authentication is critical and cite it among their key priorities for improving their identity capabilities.4
- 98%82%

Why go passwordless?

- Optimize the user experience
- Eliminate password-related risks
- Focus on more secure authentication

Passwordless authentication removes the password from the employee’s login experience – a more streamlined and secure way for users to log into all their work.

Why go passwordless?

Enter passwordless authentication.

87% of global businesses have employees using MFA, up 12% from 2018.2

59%

98%

82%

LastPass is the only solution that can remove the password from the employee’s login experience, while managing every single password in use through password management.

Learn more at www.lastpass.com/products/identity

Sources:
1 Verizon DBIR
2 LastPass Global Password Security Report
3 McAfee’s CASB: MVISION Cloud
4 LastPass Guide to Modern Identity Research Report